

Across The Highlands

Kamelot

I've been witness to so many wars
That I'm blind to affliction
No ability left to remorse
It's my faith and conviction Wide awake
In this world
Full of hate
I unfurl But I am damned
If life itself is condemnation
I am immortal
Thus my freedom is captivity Flying all across the highlands
Searching for a way
To finalize my history
Rising high above the mountains Reaching for the sky
Closer to my sanctuary All my life I've been trying to die
Reach complete segregation
I am ready to open my eyes
To a new revelation Lost in time
There's no place
For my soul
In his embrace For I am damned
If life itself is condemnation
I am immortal
Thus my freedom is captivity
Bound to live eternally
