Dead Red

Cemetary

Thru the maze
I run in hope to die but of death there is no trace until the dead red catches my eyes a hide and seek until eternity this game I will never complete until I am free from the grip of time I am trapped in the losers seatMy growing fear is uncontrolled as I tremble in perspiration but I know in the end the dead red will unfold and that is my only consolationColour of head my ever sworn enemy blind I search the red which I am unable to find but as the voices said in the hours of my life to eternity you shall be led with pain in your eyesThe game shall continue eternity won't be long and on the edge we will know who won or shall it be none I found it at the end of timeIt did not glow is did not shine its time had come and so had mine it turned around and stared at me with eyes of black this could not be in that moment of truth the lie did die the stars went black and then went I"Revel within your time but make it last an eternity because life is not all that is going to be"
