Keep Me

Bonnie Dune

Day break, break me and take me home
This place was in me from the start it's the hardest part when day turns dark
It's nothing left for me to hold
I'm going alone if I don't close this space that's all around me it's hard
And I'm losing myself without some, without someone else
And I'm losing myself, myselfThe light stands and slows off
Through a strange strange love
A long way way down from the start it's hard spot when day turns dark
I'm going alone if I don't close this space that's all around me it's hard
And I'm losing myself without some, without someone else
And I'm losing myself, myself, without some, without someone else to keep me, to keep me
To keep me
Cause I'm losing myself, without some, without someone else
I'm losing myself, without some, without someone else to keep me, to keep me
And I'm losing myself, without some, without someone else to keep me, to keep me.
