

Orchid Dreaming

Big Electric Cat

Twice upon a time a slowdive running low,
such an empty paradise that always feels so cold.
Lost as lover's kisses that seek to hold you so,
Down those shadows steps, down those shadows steps I go.
And you'll take another ,that you'll never know,
and you'll lose your love , for everything you hold,
to taste the orchids dreaming is sweeter than this life
to fade away the moment that you've always sacrificed.
A candle drowns in rain so deep inside your eyes,
forever sometimes never in your whispered lies.
I've heard this conversations I know which way to turn,
I've seen this emotion and watched it fade and burn .
And you'll take another ,that you'll never know,
and you'll lose your love,for everything you hold,
to taste the orchids dreaming is sweeter than this life
to fade away the moment that you've always sacrificed.
I've heard this conversation I know which way to turn,
I've seen this tired emotion and watched it fade and burn.
And you'll take another , that you'll never know,
and you'll lose your love ,for everything you hold,
to taste the orchids dreaming is sweeter than this life.
