Jump

Mike Fisher

So we're watching the stars on the edge of the dawn
We put our hearts and our minds on the edge of the worldThe night knocks at our feet with the beat of imagination
And it's all I know
And it's all I've ever cared about
I stay asleep to dream a little longer
And When I'm tired, I lie awake and believe I could be strongerYou can't find new oceans, unless you lose sight of shore
If you're not sure, baby just bet every last dime on me
And the water's deep
And the water's cold
If you never jump, you'll never find your soul
Hello new life
Goodbye grey skies

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/