Mourning Air

Portishead

Did I see a moment with you?
In a half lit world
I'm frightened to believe
But I must try, if I stumble, if I fall
I'm reaching out in this mourning air, ohh
Have I got the strength to ask?
Beyond the window I feel this fear alone
Until we have total honesty
If I tremble or fall
I'm reaching out in this mourning air, ohh
Should I feel the moment with you?
To softly whisper, I crave nothing else so much
Longing to reveal total honesty
I can feel your touch
I'm reaching out in this mourning air, ohh
I'm reaching out in this mourning air, ohh
