

Up the Morning

Babyshambles

Up the morning, up, up the morningUp the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morningEvery time I see your face
It makes me sad, it makes me chase
Chase my love across the world
Even though you're not its taste
Simple, evil, I don't walk aloneEvery time I see your face
It makes me cry, it makes me wait
Waited far too long and you were over me
But it's okay 'cause I know where you will go, I will goUp the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morningAnd if I, if I could go back in time
And if I, if I could go back in time
I'd go to show, what did I show?
I would not showThe nights and the fights
When I came rumbling out the door
Well, what was I supposed to do?
Where's a boy supposed to, supposed to go?Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
Up the morning, up, up the morning
