Yesterday

AFTRHOURS

Lookin' in the same eyes
That I would have once get lost in Underneath the same skies
Where everything it started
Standing up on thin ice
So now I walk with caution
Had the other half of your heart
But I didn't want it, didn't want it
There we go, I let you get away again
But I hate being alone, there I go
I'm chasing for you back again, oh
And I wish I would've known

Yesterday
I thought I needed a break
But then I saw you out with him
Yesterday
I made a huge mistake
And now I need you back again
Yesterday
You should have said something,
Cause I never saw it coming
Yesterday
I should've changed my ways
And never let you leave with him

Waking up at midnight
Lookin' for a remedy
And I truly never found right
Thought you were sleeping with the enemy,
The enemy
We were standing there in paradise
And then I broke my promise
Had the other half to your heart
And I said that I want it, i want it
There we go
I let you get away again
But I hate being alone, there I go
I'm chasing for you back again

And I wish I would have known!

Yesterday
I thought I needed a break
But then I saw you out with him
Yesterday
I made a huge mistake
And now I need you back again
Yesterday
You should have said something,
Cause I never saw it coming
Yesterday
I should've changed my ways
And never let you leave with him

Lookin' in the same eyes
That I shouldn't got lost in, lost in Hearing you say goodbye
Hurts knowing that I caused it, that i caused it

Yesterday
I thought I needed a break
But then I saw you out with him
Yesterday
I made a huge mistake
And now I need you back again
Yesterday
I thought I needed a break
But then I saw you out with him
Yesterday
I made a huge mistake
And now I need you back again
Yesterday
You should have said something,
Cause I never saw it coming
Yesterday
I should've changed my ways
And never let you leave with him

Yesterday

Lyrics Submitted by Michelle

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/