

Drama Club Romance

Audio Karate

Practice all the lines weve rehearsed play will start at nine and drama is a game ive been thru sort thru broken tiesand the curtains on the rise in the moment of surprise the stage that i built on holidayssso stand back lights on...
i wont fail
when your gone...i will never die without you fine without you
life without you exists...in timeSo have you seen the show run lately? seats are hard to find and the teachers on the rooftop singing praise aint justifiedand the curtains on the rise in the moment of surprise
our thoughts will coincide on better dayssso stand back lights on...
life without you exists...in timeand the curtains on the rise
when you find the part to play dont let it get away
