Phone Call from Unknown

Softengine

On my own
Forgetting everything I used to know
No regrets
Being afraid will be the last mistakeI'm calling out your name
To make you see how beautiful we could have been
To find the trust we lost somehow
To feel that you are not alone
Hey, it's alright
Because I got the Phone Call from UnknownFace the day
In every town there is no new affair
Break away
Waiting for the change won't take you anywhereI'm calling out your name
To make you see how beautiful we could have been
To find the trust we lost somehow
To feel that you are not alone
Hey, it's alright
Because I got the Phone Call from UnknownSo please
Don't you give in
Don't you explain
Don't you complainWith all your pride
You're falling
Don't leave yourself behindI'm calling out your name
To make you see how beautiful we could have been
To find the trust we lost somehow
To feel that you are not alone
Hey, it's alright
Because I got the Phone Call from Unknown
