

Puppet Show

Happy Cadavres

Looking, laughing, talking all your shit
Wondering if you live your life just so you can fit
 Could it be real
 Or you're a fake
Nobody's that way ... Give me a fucking break No recognition is what we should give to people like this that tell me how to live

The ones who criticize, they gossip and they smile, the people that live the way that they decide
 This is not a puppet show
 No one in the world is hanging on a string
Take a look around, there are people everywhere
They might be doing circles but it's their own thing.
