Run for Cover

Gary Moore

Run, run you'd better find somewhere to run
You've made a fool of everybody
But you're not fooling anyoneHide, you always need someplace to hide
But you can't hide from what's inside yourself
You just can't face itRun, run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
You'd better find some other place to hide
From loneliness insideYou'd better run
Run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
Before it gets too lateRun, you're gonna run like out of time
You let the suffering behind now
And all the years have passed you byLies, I used to listen to you
Lies, but now I've learned to read between the lines
I've got your numberRun, run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
You'd better find some other place to hide
From loneliness insideYou'd better run
Run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
Before it gets too lateRun, run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
You'd better find some other place to hide
From loneliness insideYou'd better run
Run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
You'd better find some other place to hide
What's eating you insideYou'd better run
Run for cover now
You'd better run for cover now
YeahRun for cover
Run, run, run, run
Run, run, run, run
Run, run, run, run, yeah
