

All I Can

Sharon Van Etten

the sun is at stake
and i'm at your window
beyond all sleep
and i can't speakin old tokyo translate memories
that i cannot free
but what will it take we all make mistakes
we all try to free
the size of the past
we don't wanna last made love erase to let out my mind
wanting to love
as new as i can wanting to show i want my scars to help, and heal how much you wanted
so much you foundry not to beg too much to be
calling my heart
i know you are real but my memory steals every moment i can feel what will it take
we all make mistakes even though i try to stand even though it's slowly i do all i can
but who is my man the memory of you
the love overdue
to carry a face
i cannot re-trace i do all i can
we all make mistakes
