One Little Girl

Toad the Wet Sprocket

One little girl told to know her place
Told she must believe and do what he says
One little girl taught that she is small
Taught that she is less and mans decree is lawOne little boy whod know her too well
That one little boy could send her to hell
One little man whod care if she cried
That one little man would leave her
Then shed dieOne little girl is beaten till she faints
Told that this is love told that she will have to take it
One little girl is just a bit confused
Thought that she was human tooOne little boy whod know her too well
That one little boy could send her to hell
One little man whod care if she cried
That one little man would leave her
Then shed die, die, die, one little girlOne little girl couldnt run away
Anywhere shed go, the rules and men the same
One little girl couldnt take the pain
Numbed herself till none remainedOne little boy whod know her too well
That one little boy could send her to hell
One little man whod care if she cried
That one little man would leave her
Then shed die, die, die, one little girl

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/