Slipping Away

Trust Company

You said, "Hold on"
But I feel like I'm slipping away
And you said, "Hold on"
But it feels like I'm slipping awayI won't let you down
The words you said to me
It's echoin' the sound
Of what would never beI'm standing here alone
The memories remain
The same familiar home
But nothing looks the sameAnd I'm standing here alone
Can't tell if I'm awake
Reality is gone
In a dream I can't escapeYou said, "Hold on"
But I feel like I'm slipping away
And you said, "Hold on"
But I feel like I'm slipping awayI'm getting through it now
I guess it's plain to see
That everything I am
Is not everything you needI'm standing here alone
Can't tell if I'm awake
Reality is gone
In a dream I will escapeYou said, "Hold on"
But it feels like I'm slipping away
You said, "Hold on"
But I feel like I'm slipping awayI'm standing here alone
Can't tell if I'm awake
And it feels like I'm slipping away
Reality is gone in a dream I can't escape
And I feel like I'm slipping away
