No Angels

Moments In Grace

I lived my life Crippled by your spells I walked blindly toward this lifeless hellThe truth undergone by fear The system shut down it brought you back to tears The many moments that I cried tainted by the suits and the ties a fire broke out in our simple mind and I was lostIf you say there are no angels If you say there is no peace If you sat there are no angels Then let the heavens crumble to the seaIf you know there is no hell Im looking for peace A moment alone I will serve with conviction for the crimes i have committed You want to scorn my lovers paint A letter on their chests I will cherish the simplests moments and live my life without regretIf you say there are no angels If you say there is no peace If you sat there are no angels Then let the heavens crumble to the seaDarker days where the lines are blurring

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/

we feel the burning we hope we will find a way