

Another You

Johnny Tillotson

(I know there'll never ever be another you)Just when I thought that you were mine alone

You told me there was someone new

Oh it's so hard to think of finding someone else

I know there'll never ever be another youI can't forget the moments that we shared

And all the happiness we knew

And as I sit alone with these memories

I know there'll never ever be another youI know there'll never ever be lips as sweet as yours

No there'll never ever be another you
