

Choose Me

Danko Jones

10.9.8.7.6.5.4.3.2.1 When you start to shake your thing

It makes me want to sing

The feelings in my bones

From the bottom of my heart

It's a feeling that I keep

It makes me breathe

If you ever have a choice

Baby, Choose Me! I'll wait for the day (I'll wait for the day)

But it might be too late (but it might be too late)

If the world comes crashing down

I'll be the loudest voice in the crowd

And if that day comes

Choose Me!

10.9.8.7.6.5.4.3.2.1 I'll wait for the day (I'll wait for the day)

But it might be too late (but it might be too late)

If the world comes crashing down

I'll be the loudest voice in the crowd

And if that day comes

Choose Me! How many times have you seen

The woman of a man you're supposed to be with

And they're with somebody else?

And that somebody else

That other man, or that other woman

Ain't half the person you are

And it's written all over their face

I know you just want to say

"Darlin', tell me I need you!" 10.9.8.7.6.5.4.3.2.1

I'll wait for the day (I'll wait for the day)

But it might be too late (but it might be too late)

If the world comes crashing down

I'll be the loudest voice in the crowd Call me, alright?
