

How Stella Really Got Her Groove Back

Comb the Desert

First they take your rifles
then your first born then they make you worship a man with two shiny horns They clog your pineal so you can't dream then they cut your throat out so you can't scream when they shut out the lights you will live in the dark until your eyeballs adjust and then you'll see pretty far If your road leads nowhere you followed skewered maps open up your sewer caps you'll do fewer lapse you never get your piece of the pie now you sleep with the chart?
tell me Sally did you get your groove back? when you lost your heart
When they shut out the lights baby
Live in the dark
When they take your house Sally Sleep in the car Ain't yah glad the seat reclines you sleep in the car
Your ends never met up Yah never spread them apart
A man of confession tho he Rarely mourns
He's got halos over both of his horns
He's the cause of chaos and the one who forewarns
He's got halos over both of his horns
First they take your rifles
then your first born
then they make you warship a man with two shiny horns Your road leads nowhere
Open up your sewer Caps you'll do fewer laps
You never get your piece of the pie now you sleep with the chart?

tell me Sally did you really get your groove back? when you lost when you lost your heart ...

For yourself and no one else today for a moment and forever let the salt burn the cancer today for a moment or forever 2xA man of confession who rarely mourns
He's got halos over both of his horns 4x the one who forewarns
