

Eye

Thin White Rope

I see the world through open eyes and every eye's on me

I see a world years from now, and everyone will pay

I

I have to speak, defend myself, everyone must know

Actions speak for themselves, possession is the law

I'll take your life, I'll take your name, I'll never take the blame
