Birds and No Bees
written by Kim Beggs from the album Streetcar Heart

Bob Hamilton â€™ vocals â•, standup bass
Tony Scott Pearce â€™ concertina

Annie Avery â€™ Leslie Hammond B3 organ
Lonnie Powell â€™ drums

Looking down on Union Square from here Pigeons, seagulls fly by Feeling sorry for we who think we so High and mighty

People writing, staring, some visiting with Knees touching, hearts racing Knees touching, sun splashing down and mixing with their love

But maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees to sting me
Maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees

The ones who sit with space all around them with no
Knees touching, no hearts racing no
Knees touching,
They're the ones who are a little Lonely and scared

A man in a suit stands solitary
Is he picking his teeth or blowing the harmonica

Either way he's learning a part to play out-Side the square

But maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees to sting me
Maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees

Some people looking around and not seeing people Looking down, looking broke, they think they're better than The people who work on the corner for their daily bread

But at Union Square
we all breath the same air
Street meat vendor, coffee philosopher Buskers, tricksters, lovers all needing the Heat of the sun

But maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees to sting me
Maybe I don't know
I'm just sitting up here with
The birds and no bees
The birds and no bees
