Have a clear mind
Be pure in your heart
Be sure in your actions
One day all the world's musicians will meet
    Music has no frontiers
    One day the Americans
    Will find a new vision
    And the Russians too
    Will see life in a different way
For there are too many weapons
    And war is terrible
I have a vision of all Africa
    Being united one day
    Give me your hand
Give me one chance to know
    What do you think,
        For the future?
The young people are crying
Because the older ones are frightening them
    That's what makes me sad
    They are crying because
    They have no hope
