

Morning Light Forgives the Night (feat. Ane Brun)

Rebekka Karijord

When you slip away
after a long day
of living
your reservoirs
are empty now
you're ready to refill them The safe and the known around you
transforming
The phantom pains
are hunting you again
you are on your own then For now put a hand on my head whisper in my ear
you just have to be near Morning light forgives the night so please stay until I see another day
