

Love Sick Fool

Matthew Santos

Been wracking my brain of this slingin' out my wits and then it seems I always miss I think I got a heart now and i'm ready to reach out again at the risk of my dismissal Well I can make it happen
I know i've been thinking 'bout moving on home Give all this life that I love to live with the love of my life
Give it all willingly Cuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool Well i'm throwing my heart against the wall to see if it'll bounce back and love me again What a strange thing for a man to do, but it was something I needed to go through To be open to loving you Cuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool If I go through with this plan
Then I can forgive myself someday Turning my back on this life I made Would I forgive myself if I stayed? Keep telling myself it'll happen when it happens We aint getting any younger and i'm afraid it'll never happen.
Cuz its the heart that makes the home and i'm bound to be all alone at least for awhile, dear. So to save all this aching, or maybe it's my broken heart in the making
But I just have to look at you and i'm sure what I wanna do Girl, I want to be with you Cuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
