

Come In With the Rain

Taylor Swift

I could go back to every laugh,
But I don't wanna' go there anymore,
And I know all the steps up to your door,
But I don't wanna' go there anymore.

Talk to the wind, talk to the sky,
Talk to the man with the reasons why,
And let me know what you find.

I'll leave my window open,
Cause I'm too tired at night to call your name.
Just know I'm right here hope'n,
That you'll come in with the rain.

I could stand up and sing you a song,
But I don't wanna have to go that far.
And I, I've got you down,
I know you by heart,
And you don't even know where I start.

Talk to yourself, talk to the tears,
Talk to the man who put you here,
And don't wait for the sky to clear.

I'll leave my window open,
Cus I'm too tired at night to call your name.
Oh, just know I'm right here hope'n,
That you'll come in with the rain.

I've watched you so long,
Screamed your name,
I don't know what else I can say.

But I'll leave my window open,
Cus I'm too tired at night for all these games.
Just know I'm right here hope'n,
That you'll come in with the rain.

I could go back to every laugh,
But I don't wanna go there anymore!

Lyrics submitted by molly.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>