

You Never Satisfy Me

Avril Lavigne

Excuse me sir, do I have your attention
There's something if you don't mind I'd like to mention
So open those ears, sit your butt down and shut your mouth
I'm aware that it's hard for you to do that
All I ask is lay down, put your feet up
Now soak in, pay attention, learn a lesson loud and clear
Hey, you're a dirty liar
You wronged me out for something I thought was right
I wanted to be left alone
Not shown around like your golden prize
Oh, I looked around
Look what happened, you found out
You never satisfy me
Never trusted anyone in the first place
You turned me up, you're disgusting anyway
Hear that music, crank it up
Is there something familiar in the singer's voice
Turn it down, now listen to me,
What made you think you were my authority
I'm awake, finally now I'm able to move on (Just gotta tell the truth)
Hey, you're a dirty liar
You wronged me out for something I thought was right
I wanted to be left alone
Not shown around like your golden prize
Oh, I looked around
Look what happened, you found out
You never satisfy me
Now do these words stick to you, hope they do
Think about it, think about it
Stick to you like superglue
Keep you from the things you do
Hey, you're a dirty liar
You wronged me out for something I thought was right
I wanted to be left alone
Not shown around like your golden prize
Oh, I looked around
Look what happened, you found out
You never satisfy me
Hey, you're a dirty liar
You wronged me out for something I thought was right
I wanted to be left alone
Not shown around like your golden prize
Oh, I looked around
Look what happened, you found out
You never satisfy me

Songwriters

Avril Lavigne; Clifton Magness

Published by
EMI APRIL MUSIC, INC.; ALMO MUSIC CORP.; BLUE IRON GATE MUSIC
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>