Libel

Tilt

stopped again, thought I recognized it, hear that? There it goes right = now, like a whisper I'm imagining, but now it's screaming... inside my = head. Can you hear it? Can you hear it? Ignorance personified. Can you = hear it? Can you hear it? You try to bite your words, but they keep = forming in your mouth, and they are libelous hottly popping out, I am = beyond hte cutting range of your dull mind and jagged tongue, and this = you cannot stand. You cannot stand. Can you hear it? Can you hear it? = Ignorance personified. Can you hear it? Can you hear it now? You better = listen to yourself, can you hear it? Can you hear it now? Follow me all = the way home, but you haven't got the guts to come in too close, follow = me all the way home, you just want a chance to show how little you = really know
