Jubilee

Gretchen Peters

I got nothing to hold me here my old friends have all moved on and disappeared it won't be long now 'til I fly but oh my dear ones how I hate to say goodbye so I sing holy holy from this prison where i lie my arms reaching up to touch the sky I sing holy holy, hallelujah I am free come on down and join the jubilee I don't hunger and I don't thirst there is nothing that I need upon this earth my body's broken but not my soul you know it's love and only love that's made me whole I'm an orphan thirty years on how I miss my father's voice and my mother's arms I was you once, and now you're me it's in this circle that we make a family
