

Storm Warning

The dB's

If you walk in the dark you will probably fall
You will probably lose face but you probably won't lose
All your life, you've been a loser all your life

If you stand in the hall with your ear to the wall
You will probably hear things that you won't want to hear
All your life, you've been a loser all your life
Loser all your life

Put your head on the block and prepare for the shock
It will probably hurt, not as much if you'd lost
All your life, you've been a loser all your life
Loser all your life

Hope for the best, expect the worst
If this is heaven, you're the first
If this is hell, you're well rehearsed
Be nice for a while

If you walk in the dark you will probably fall
You will probably lose grace, but you probably won't lose
All your life, you've been a loser all your life
Loser all your life
Loser all your life
