

Last Call

Mortimer Nova

save a seat at the table and bring your own spoon cuz my good intentions never followed through you'll miss the exit if you don't use your hands it's such a short walk when i can fall off the land if you're just gonna try why dont don't don't don't you just give up cuz you'll never live up and you won't shut up you can't taste the world if your all tongues shriveled up you can't taste the world if your all tongues shriveled upmisinterpretationso roll up your sleeves and gnaw at your teeth and shoot back the juice that brings you relief roll back your eyes and fall off your feet make your disguise and run your retreat
you can't taste the world if your all tongues shriveled upbring back the face, bring back the race, bring back the rain, the lane
you never go
i can't, again, i know, you know, i try, to be, a lie, uh woah oh
