

Too High A Price

The Doobie Brothers

No one lives forever
So don't waste your time
Just ain't right to walk away
Roll the dice, lay it on the line Many roads to travel
In your search you might find
That getting there will have no meaning
If you can't enjoy the ride Too high a price that everyone's paying
The world ain't so nice, trying to survive
Spending your life, takin' chances you're given
That's always enough to keep the dream alive If you're lookin' for trouble
You can bet it's gaining from behind
When you give, you get back double
You can't lose, let your heart decide Too high a price that everyone's paying
The world ain't so nice, trying to survive
Spending your life, takin' chances you're given
That's always enough to keep the dream alive No one lives forever
So don't waste your time
Just ain't right to walk away
Roll the dice, lay it on the line Too high a price that everyone's paying
The world ain't so nice, trying to survive
Spending your life, takin' chances you're given
That's always enough to keep the dream alive Too high a price
The world ain't so nice
Spending your life, takin' chances you're given
That's always enough to keep that dream alive Too high a price
The world ain't so nice
Spending your life
That's always enough Too high a price
The world ain't so nice
Spending your life
That's always enough Too high a price
The world ain't so nice

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>