

Not Quite a Yes

Arab Strap

Why could I not speak? You're not so unique
My eyes stayed on the floor
I make a little suggestion before I pop the question
But I was far too out my face, I was out my face
It's the first time in ages I've actually had the guts to ask
But I'm feeling particularly confident tonight
If you know what I mean
But that's the thing, you don't know what I mean
The reason I fancy you in the first place
Is the same reason we'll no get on, 'cause you're just not into it
I mean you're cute and you're innocent and you're nice and that
But you barely even drink
No meeting was I granted but now the seed's been planted
And now you're in the know
Too steaming to impress, not a no, not quite a yes
You ask if that's okay, I suppose it's okay

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>