

All Hope Is Gone

Slapshock

A tireless dream of indifference flows
Through veins 'til the river runs dry
I no longer care, I have all but disposed
Of dreams that I once held inside
Desire is gone after all of these years
The fight has been lost, I concede
The apathy born a long time ago
Has grown to what I can't defeat, no
I've been here too long
I'm tired and longing for more
How long must I run
To find what I'm looking for?
All hope is gone
The sadness I carry so deep in my heart
Of what could have been and might be
Is never forgotten, it's never too far
I'm wasted, so worn and so weak
I've been here too long
I'm tired and longing for more
How long must I run
To find what I'm looking for?
All hope is gone
I've been here too long
I'm tired and longing for more
How long must I run
To find what I'm looking for?
I've been here too long
I'm tired, longing for more
All hope is gone, all hope is gone
All hope is gone
