

Throw Down The Sword

Wishbone Ash

Throw down the sword the fight is done and over
Neither lost, neither won
To cast away the fury of the battle
And turn my weary eyes for home There were times when
I stood at death's own door
Only hoping for an answer Throw down the sword and leave the glory
A story time can never change
To walk the road, the load I have to carry
A journey's end, a wounded soul There were times when
I stood at death's own door
Only searching for an answer

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>