

Another Day

Axxis

Cold white frost melts on the green grass
As the sun begins to shine
As I wake up, I was sure
That the world is gonna be mine
The first bird starts to sing
At the crack of dawn
The world is telling me
A new day is born
I feel the wind embracin' me
I'm thankful that I get to see
Another day to live and say
I'm still alive, I've still survived
Another day to find a way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
Golden colors everywhere
The mornin' of my day
Words I said, things I've done
Are lost in yesterday
Like the sun finds its way
Through the night
You always fill my life with your light
Another day to live and say
I'm still alive, I've still survived
Another day to find a way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
I feel the wind embracin' me
I'm thankful that I get to see
Another day to live and say
I'm still alive, I've still survived
Another day to find a way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
