

Trace of You

Peter Bradley Adams

I watched you run
To catch a trace of you
I fall in love I hold my tongue
To keep it safe for you
I read your mind
I read your mind When midnight comes and finds me alone
Like the tides you turn and the clouds you roll
And I'm stuck in a dream that will not let me go I close my eyes to see the shape of you
Can you see mine?
Can you see mine? If you want a little more
Take your chances at the door and I will wait for you
I will be just fine
I will be just fine When midnight comes and finds me alone
Like the tides you turn and the clouds you roll
And I'm stuck in a dream that will not let me go That will not let me go
That will not let me go
Will not let me go
