Who I Am

Third Day

Well, I need to be someone who's a lot like You
Easy to see that I sure need something new Though I try to live life my way
I think it goes to prove
That I need to be someone who's like You
And I know that You want to change me
Wanna rearrange the way I feel inside
And I've heard that You take
The broken hearts of lonely souls
And You make all things right
Do You know who I am?
Have You seen the things I've done?
Do You know who I am?
Have You seen the things I've done?
The things I've done, oh yeah
Never before, no there's never been a time
That I would implore You to take what's Yours and mine
And to use it in the way You will
In any way You find
Never before did I realize
And I know that You want to change me

Wanna rearrange the way I feel inside
And I've heard that You take
The broken hearts of lonely souls
And You make all things right
But do You know who I am?
And have You seen the things I've done?
Do You know who I am?
And have You seen the things I've done?
Do You know who I am?
And have You seen the things I've done? Yeah
Do You know who I am?
And have You seen the things I've done? Yeah
But do You know
Do You know who I am?
Have You seen what I've done? Yeah
Do You know who I am?
And have You seen the things I've done?

The things I've done
The things I've done
Do You know who I am?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/