

We Are Broken

This, the Silent War

Dancing around the dark
The walls that ground us shaking
Time feels like it's standing still
Still my mind is racing We are broken in a way that I can't change
And it hurts too much to hold another day
With a heart wide open the hardest thing to say
Is sometimes you can't save what can't be saved
We are broken Tender hands on mine
Drawing me out of a daydream
Falling out of control
Falling in was so easy We are broken in a way that I can't change
It hurts too much to hold another day
With a heart wide open the hardest thing to say
Is sometimes you can't save what can't be saved And I don't wanna let you down
But I know too much to turn back now
Oh Dancing around the dark
As the dark is fading We are broken in a way that I can't change
It hurts too much to hold another day
With a heart wide open the hardest thing to say
Is sometimes you can't save what can't be saved We are broken in a way that I can't change
It hurts too much to hold another day
With a heart wide open always hard to say
Is sometimes you can't save what can't be saved We are broken (2x)
