Away

Athenaeum

Hes got a really bad sense of time
He only listens when shes about to break down and cry
And shes got a lot to learn about herself
Shes always blaming her sorrow on someone elseWell, hes not a really good person from the start
Hes always making it a habit of breaking her heart
And shes gonna have to take half the blame
Shes always taking his shit but I swear its gonna changeJust walk away like you never cared
Dont even look at him if youre still scared
And you dont even have to give him a reason whyBut all the things that you never said
Theyre gonna stay with you until youre dead
So take advantage of the way he made you feelIts only a matter of time
Youre gonna find your peace of mind
And maybe settle down in a one bedroom apartmentAnd all the evil things he might say
Will come back to him one day
When he least expects it
Then youll be a million miles awayMiles away
Away
