All My Mistakes

Teitur

Who is to say who wins or who loses?
I sing to myself at the end of the day
When I know what the blues is
All my mistakes have become masterpiecesI was born in the goodness of grace
Because of faith, because of courage
Because of forgiveness
All my mistakes have become masterpiecesThere comes a time
You must stay in the moment while your heart's still bleedin'
There comes a time
When you must walk away though your heart's still beatin'There comes a time
You must stay in the moment while your heart's still bleedin'
There comes a time
When you must walk away though your heart's still beatin'
