

Twilight Princess

Hammerfall

Where have I been? I don't know where to begin
Memories flash, bright and painfully clash Forever gone, my mind is clear but undone
Storms raging on, sensing the other one Here, in the thunderous silence I sit, petrified
Knowing the Twilight Princess will come I hear her lies, piercing through me, hypnotized
Cursing the skies, who I've become, I despise I have no choice, all is lost, can't rejoice
Nothing but noise, and her sweet, sweet voice No, as the dusk is approaching, I hear her again
It is the Twilight Princess I fear
Oh, her beauty, ethereal, out of this world
Because the Twilight Princess is here Give me a reason, won't you give me a sign
Give me a reason to cross the line
Darkness has come
And the last rays of sunlight are gone
What matters now won't matter soon
In the light of the moon (Guitar Solo) Once I was dead, time standing still and at last
Free in my head, never remember the past I must obey, finding an innocent prey
To make the Twilight Princess smile
Always astray, need her to show me the way
It is my Twilight Princess' trial Yes, as the dusk is approaching, I hear her again
It is the Twilight Princess I see
Oh, her beauty, ethereal, out of this world
Because the Twilight Princess is me She is always with me
