Time Machine

Example

I may have been away, seeing the world
But stick with me girl, and and I'll show you the world
and I'll show you the world
and I'll show you the world and I'll show you the worldShe looking up at me as I walk in the room, She's stirrin' her tea kinda slow with a spoon,
A tear on the cheek, I aint seen her for weeks,
I ask her if she wants to walk on the moon
Then off to the theatre, with Julius Caesar,
Way before the tower started leaning of Pisa,
Anywhere she wants, no we don't need a Visa,
She said this is serious, I shouldn't tease herNow I got my hands on her waist and I say
I'm not a rapper, I'm really a spaceman,
Taking you out of this world to a place that close to the Sun, you'll be needing your RayBans
You wanna meet Elvis, I'll take you to Graceland, I'll take you to Egypt, you won't need your fake tan and we can watch the pyramids build and just chill,
With a smile on her face and now she's packing a caseIf I ever had a real chance to travel in a time machine, where would I go?
Probably wouldn't wanna see the past, 'cause all the memories are enough.
If I ever had a real chance to travel in a time machine, where would I go?
Though I know I'd probably be fine, I'd wanna see a future under the starsSo follow your dreams, that's what they told us
But when we were kids didn't listen to grown-ups,
Now that I'm grown up, I need to own up Because I stopped dreaming as soon as she showed up Thought that my life was complete when we shacked up,
But still you gotta dream with relationships wrapped up Parcels passed, live for the future,
So let me travel back in time if it suits yaYou don't need to slow down, I gave you the lowdown
You can do the opposite as everyone goes round,
Ali and Frasier be there for the showdown,
See Michael Jackson, BIllie Jean at the Motown
We can do it all if you need to,
Sit by my side, gimme time and I'll please you, please do
True, you aint seen nothing yet,
The more I can show you the older we get, yepIf I ever had a real chance to travel in a time machine, where would I go?

Probably wouldn't wanna see the past, 'cause all the memories are enough.
If I ever had a real chance to travel in a time machine, where would I go?
Though I know I'd probably be fine, I'd wanna see a future under the starsPlease don't chase the past, stay for the future,
'cos I know where we're going
Please don't chase the past, stay for the future,
'cos I know where we're going
Please don't chase the past, stay for the future,
'cos I know where we're going
Please don't chase the past, stay for the future,
'cos I know where we're going
