

Deep Sky Diver

Husky

Light waves,
don't leave me sleeping
with a heart full of forgotten feelings to find an introduction to your life.
Today's when it starts.
Are you awake or are you just a sum of dreamt up parts? Like a deep sky diver, falling far from the earth. Silence
stole while you waited,
every one that you wanted to be.
Even you believe your lies.
They come easily,
and you're drifting now in sight, weightlessly... Like a deep sky diver, falling far from the earth. You were waiting for a sign in the silence of your room.
It never came,
for a sign is to be found,
won't come looking for you.
You wait for the sunrise to see
the beginnings, the end, endlessly.
And as the continents shift,
now the deep ocean flows.
Where civilisations once stood,
sea regrows.
And the promise of tomorrow,
and the footprints washed away.
The light waves that touched a million faces fade away into... My blood, if I could only reach you.
For the dust has settled all around you.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>