Stratovolcano Mouth

Chiodos

Let it all out
Let, let it all out
Let, let it all out
Let, let it go
Let it all out
Let, let it all out
Let it all out
Explode
If mother earth was your body
And the inner core was your fury
Then the lava that flows in the chamber below
Is your adrenaline
In a single second are a thousand thoughts
But only one of them makes sense to you
For so long you've held it in
Everyday you're getting closer
Explode into the air, explode into the air
Are you alive? Are you livid?
Yes, are you afraid?
Are you afraid of what you hold inside?
In a single second are a thousand thoughts
But only one of them makes sense to you
For so long you've held it in
Everyday you're getting closer
Explode into the air, explode into the air
For so long you've held it in
Everyday you're getting closer
Explode into the air, explode into the air
You're breathing heavy, you close your eyes
Your hands are shaking but you hold it in
You try to stay calm, you try to hold it back
But you can't seem to rest
Yeah, your heart is breaking right out of your chest
(Explode)
And this is what it feels like to be a volcano
Will it tear you up inside?
Let it all
Let, let it all out
Let it all out just let it go

Let it all out
Let, let it all out, let it all out
Explode out your throat
Explode out your throat
For so long you've held it in
Everyday you're getting closer
Explode into the air, explode into the air
For so long you've held it in
Everyday you're getting closer
Explode into the air, explode into the air
Explode out your throat
Explode out your throat
