Why you always taxing me?
Who said this is the way it be?
What is the real necessity?
It's I and I
Where does all this conflict come flom?
When it is time to settle down?
how do you not realize now?

So if the Earth is our home thes the sun is our heart The shining stars bringing light to the dreams that we start sparking emotional storms trapping us in a flood Of the reality of our intention ï¼œï¼ž Stepping through the window to that urban life Bouncing to rhythms freezing with the bling and ice It's so nice to feel this moment here
That island fever keeps it baking with the pouring sun longing for change endless summer emporium it's bound to fall, man's creation the biggest paradox of all the Earth is our home so we all have to start Breathing the wind as a gift taking and doing our parts To join as one in the hope that we can be right now Proud in our lives so full of passion

This island feelines what I'm talking about We're talking it back to the roots where no rules are allowed come on everybody the chance is now
