Slaughterhouse

Goo Goo Dolls

And if the accident will, well we'll both fade away
And I'll leave you still, and we will both be safe
Say you're safe, your life will pass away
Only to be saved, by another's lonely stay
All the flowers I can grow and all the children's tears
And everything I know will vanish with the years
Say you're safe, your life will pass away
Only to be saved by another's lonely stay

And if the accidents will, well we'll both fade away
But the trees will grow, until my dying day
All the flowers I can grow, and all the children's tears
And everything I know, will vanish with the years
Say you're safe and your life will pass away
Only to be saved by another's lonely stay
