

Never Get Enough

Over It

Its not easy, no satisfaction guaranteed

Still I get queasy and trying to make them see anyway

I used to wonder, When will we get enough, have I had enough?Oh yeah, do you ever want the future today?

Oh yeah, isnt there something we can take to know better?Memorys fading, fingertips keep forgetting the way

So, green with envy it's like a tidal wave crashing all over me

I used to wonder, When will we get enough, have I had enough?Oh yeah, do you ever want the future today?

Oh yeah, isnt there something we can take to know better?

Oh yeah, if I measure my hope by my jealousy

Oh yeah, I know the feeling won't stop we will never get enoughCan we stay in bed today and just get to know

The feeling that this was meant to be?

Can we stay inside today and hang up the phone

And just be alone?It's not easy, no satisfaction guaranteed

I get queasy theyre rolling their eyes but heres what Ive got to say

The price of beauty to find love in a quiet moment of pain

Stay for a lifetime, it's gonna take the rest of our days to explainOh yeah, do you ever want the future today?

Oh yeah, isnt there something we can take to know better?

Oh yeah, if I measure my hope by my jealousy

Then the moment wont comeFor the feeling to stop telling me what to love

Telling me not to forget till it's done

It's not gonna change till I know that weve won

We will never get enough
