Your Love, My Home

Joshua Payne

Home, the only place I know
Where the hurt, the heart finds healing
When the night is cold and dark
You come just as you are

Home the our memories calls me home
Where I?m resting in your arms
It humbles me to know
Know matter where I go
There will always be a place for me at home

Somewhere in the night I call your name
Somewhere in the night loves answers me
I will never let you go
You will never know
A night alone
I will make your love
My home

Lost and I dream for something more
I found you were all I needed
You are the strength of love
Without you I?d be lost
There will never be another place like home

Somewhere in the night I call your name
Somewhere in the night loves answers me
I will never let you go
You will never know
A night alone
I will make your love
My home

The road is long and I am weak
But through the rain I see
The light that leads me home

Somewhere in the night I call your name
Somewhere in the night loves answers me
I will never let you go

You will never know
A night alone
I will make your love
Home
