Shadow Painter

The Groo

Heaven knows I need you
In this cave, bound and chained
And freedom's only talk
Even though I listen for your trace
Both our gazes are fixed on these walls

But we got fire, (fire), and fire,(fire) yes fire
So while we're here
Might as well desire a (fire) louder (fire) and higher
Beats counting tears

I'll be your shadow painter
I'll cast a world with just these two hands
'Cause you're my last igniter
You light my world, you are other half
And when the world burns tonight
In an endless kind of fire
I want you here by my side
Until all our shadows are light

Given that we have to Live in shades
Why not crave to make an art of it all?
Living like we're half true, colors fade
Nights will bathe us
In the moonlight and the talk

But we got fire, (fire), and fire, (fire) yes fire
So while we're here
Might as well desire a (fire) louder (fire) and higher
Beats counting tears

I'll be your shadow painter
I'll cast a world with just these two hands
'Cause you're my last igniter
You light my world, you are other half
And when the world burns tonight
In an endless kind of fire
I want you here by my side

Until all our shadows are light

And when the world burns tonight
In an endless kind of fire
I want you here by my side
Until all our shadows are light
