The Vision

Nocturnal Rites

Look through the darkness the vision of life then tell me what do you see.
A dream you believe is a life you can't see something existis but can never be.
You will wake up but not from a dream when you wake up it will be for real The feeling is real and so is the pain Wherever you go it'll be the sameYou cant believe you're trapped inside.
this can't be real, wake up in time before it's too late, beforeyou've crossed the lineDon't overlook the eye of your mind when the eye of that vision is a piece of another time.
Forever beware of what you dream
The vision is so closed behind.The vision you saw the eye of your mind a dark side of you never meant to be.
The reason of being inside of this dream something you never tought you would see.
The fury of madness the power of dreams
You could be safe so let visions be You hold the secret the vision inside
Keep the knowledge and seal it inside
